HAMLIN'S FUNERAL.

Honors Paid to the Distinguished Ex-Vice President

LIVELY HISTORICAL QUARREL

Colonel McClure Repeats His Statement About Hamlin's Second Candidacy and Expresses His Opinion of Secretary Nicolay

BANGOR, Me., July 8.—The whole city is in mourning to-day. Business places with scarcely an exception are all displaying festoons of crape. American flags, and deeply draped portraits of the dead ex-Vice president Hannibal Hamlin. At 3 o'clock this morning Mr. Hamlin's remains were placed in a casket at his residence. At 10 30 they were escorted to the Unitarian church by a guard of honor, composed of G. A. R. men and are now lying in state with a constant stream of people passing through the church. The interior of the church is magnificently decorated and there are many rich floral designs.

A special train from Portland will arrive at 3 o'clock with a large delegation of prominent men who will attend the funeral, and a few minutes later the governor and other state officials will come on a train from Poland Springs.

SERVICES AT THE CHURCH.

BANGOR, Me., July 8.—The remains of ex-Vice president Hamlin were interred this afternoon in Mount Hope cemetery. The funeral was one of the largest and most impressive ever held in this state. All of the public buildings and many of the private business houses were draped in mourning, and during the afternoon, at the time of the funeral and the passage of the funeral cortege, all business houses were closed, all uniting in paying this tribute to the distinguished dead.

At 2 o'clock a special train arrived in the city from Portland and Augusta, which brought among others Gov. Burleigh, members of the executive council, members of the Loyal Legion, President Libby of the state senate and many others. Senator Frye and many other distinguished citizens arrived on the regular train. The funeral services were held at 3.30 o'clock at the Unitarian church. The edifice was filled almost to overflowing, the services, which were conducted by the Rev. S. C. Beach, pastor of the church, were brief but impressive. The pall-bearers were: The Hons. S. F. Humphrey, A. C. Beatelle, Senator Hale, Philo A. Strickland, L. J. Morse and W. S. Dennett.

A LITTLE HISTORY.

PHILADELPHIA, July 8.—The Times tomorrow will publish an editorial written by Colonel McClure, in which he says: "Any ignorance exhibited by John G. Nicolay in his public telegram to the widow of ex-Vice-president Hamlin is equal only to his arrogance in attempting to speak for Abraham Lincoln in matters about which Mr. Lincoln never confided and of which he had no more knowledge than any other reading clerk at the White House. I do not regret that Mr. Nicolay has rushed into a dispute that will do the cause of Lincoln and Hamlin no harm. Mr. Hamlin's friends do not impute the defeat of Hamlin in 1860 to anything he did or failed to do. Mr. Nicolay's ignorance of the history of Hamlin's life is so complete that he cannot even spell his name correctly. Mr. Hamlin was a good mechanical, practical politician, but he was entirely deficient in the qualities which made his colleague, Mr. Lincoln, so dear to the people. Mr. Hamlin's name was entirely proposed upon Lincoln's ticket in 1860 for the purpose of securing the support of the Hamlin men in Maine, and only the personal kindness of Lincoln saved him from disgrace. My own opinion is that he was the trusted repository of Lincoln's confidential convictions and efforts would have been regarded as treason a quarter of a century ago, when Lincoln and his close surroundings were all unknown. I now repeat that, in obedience to a telegraphic request from President Lincoln I visited him at the White House the day before the Baltimore convention of 1864. At that interview Mr. Lincoln earnestly explained why the nomination of a well known southern man like Andrew Johnson who had been congressman, governor and senator by the favor of his state, would not only nationalize the Republican party and the government, but would greatly help to the grave peril of the recognition of the Confederacy by England and France. No intimation of any prejudice against Mr. Hamlin was exhibited. Had he believed Mr. Hamlin to be the man who would best promote the great work of our direction fell solely upon himself, he would have favored Hamlin's renomination regardless of his personal wishes, but he believed that a great public achievement would be attained by the election of Johnson and I returned to Baltimore to work and vote for Johnson, although against all my personal predilections in the matter. Mr. Nicolay's public telegram to Mrs. Hamlin saying that the foregoing statement is entirely erroneous is as impotent as it is false.

AN OLD CHICAGO NEWS.

NEW YORK, July 8.—A cable received by Stevens & Co., of this city, from Callao July 7, reads as follows: Prisoners arrived from Valparaiso and Iquique, says that the situation of the Chilian insurgents is desperate. They are without money and their vessels are in bad condition without ammunition. The army which comprises three thousand to four thousand "roto," do not receive their pay. The insurgents have been able to obtain only 50 rifles, in bad order, bought in Panama. Most of the inhabitants of Iquique, Paranagua and Antofagasta have emigrated to Chili, or Peru. The French residents in Chili and the Chilian government must with tranquility the decision of the French tribunals regarding the vessel constructed there for account of the government of Chili. They have every confidence in the integrity of the French judges and in President Carnot.

AN EARTHQUAKE SHOCK.

WASHINGTON, July 8.—The representatives of the Chilian Congressional party in Washington late to-night received a cable dispatch from Iquique, signed by Senor Edwards, the minister of foreign affairs, saying in effect that the army of Balmaceda, which was advancing from Coquimbo to the valley of Huasco, was met by the Constitutional army at a point four leagues south of Valparaiso where an engagement took place to-day. The Constitutional army, the dispatch adds, obtained a brilliant triumph.

AN INCREASE OF PEACE.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 8.—Owing to the revolution in Chili the trade of that country with this port has largely increased within the past three months. Four steamers and a large number of sailing vessels have been dispatched for Chilian ports with miscellaneous cargoes and several other steamers are will be chartered in the near future to carry food and supplies to the warring factions in the South American republic.

Bardsley Changes His Tactics.

PITTSBURG, July 8.—Patrick Chrystal John Bardsley was to-day transferred from the county jail to the Western penitentiary and there begins to serve his term of imprisonment for embezzlement of public funds. He will be allowed to write to his family once every four weeks and can be visited by them once in three months.

CATTLE KILLED BY ALFALFA.

GREELEY, Colo., July 8.—Mort Morris, E. McClelland and Ed Jones died and died today for cattle feeding upon the water-fed alfalfa. For months the Colorado Cattle Corporation have had their cattle in the county and they have [illegible] by which sale. Hundreds of cattle have been killed by a regularly organized band of rustlers and the meat sold to the markets of Sterling, Cheyenne Holyoke and even in Nebraska. Before evening it is expected that all this will be in the toils. Considerable excitement prevails.

The Washington Strikers.

SEATTLE, Wash., July 8.—The attempt to bring about a voluntary disarmament at the mines has proved a failure. Each party expects that the other is not acting in good faith, and the consequence is very few arms are being surrendered. Work is proceeding at Gilman, New Castle and Franklin but nothing doing at Black Diamond.

BASE BALL

National Association

DENVER LINCOLN.

LINCOLN, Neb., July 8.—It took eleven innings to decide to-day a game between the Lincolns and Denvers. The game was harassed chiefly by the exhibition of stupid ball playing on the part of two or three of the local team. Score:

Earned runs—Lincoln 2, Denver 2. Two base hits—Burkett, Brennan. Three-base hits—Curtis, Flint. Stolen bases—Stenzel, Wilson. Double plays—Werrick, Tebeau, Miller. Passed balls—Off Flint 1, off Gilliver 1. Struck out—By Flint 1, by Gilliver 1. Passed ball—Wilson. Time, 2.45. Umpires—Stifel.

OMAHA KANSAS CITY.

OMAHA, July 8.—Omaha made fourteen runs off Swartzel's delivery and then Hughes went into the box for Kansas City and was hit hard enough to send eleven more men around the bases. In the eighth Shannon took mercy on the visitors and made them a present of one run saving them the disgrace of a shut-out. Score: Omaha, 15; Kansas City, 1.

MILWAUKEE MINNEAPOLIS.

MILWAUKEE, July 8.—Milwaukee won to-day principally through Duke's wildness. In the fourth inning he forced in a run on bases on balls. Score: Milwaukee 7, Minneapolis, 3.

DULUTH-SIOUX CITY.

DULUTH, Minn., July 8.—Salt could not save the Seal Hunters to-day and the Corn Huskers pounded Pitcher Whitehead and Inks out of the box and McHale was substituted, but too late in the game. The game was called at the end of the seventh inning to allow the clubs to catch the trains. There were few errors on either side, but the home pitchers were shaved frightfully. Score: Duluth 3, Sioux City 9.

National League.

CINCINNATI-BROOKLYN.

CINCINNATI, O., July 8.—The home team jumped upon Terry's delivery right at the start to-day. They did all their business in the first two innings however. In the first inning, with Captain Latham on third and McPhee on first "Bug" Holliday sent a hot ball between Ward's legs and Latham scored. Browning bunted and beat the ball to first. With the bases filled Marr hit to third. Pinckney threw wildly to first and McPhee scored. Holliday was caught at the home plate. Browning scored on Smith's hit to left and Marr scored when Barrington forced Smith at second. In the second inning the home club kept up the slaughter. Rhines hit to the left fielder and reached second when he was forced out he made such a vigorous protest that he was ordered out of the game and Fulmer took his place. Rhines also relieved Reilly at first, the latter's finger giving out. In the fourth inning Caption Ward, of the Brooklyns, relieved Con Daly in the field. He also held the bat while Ward cleared out of the game for insubordination. In the [illegible] inning the visitors batted for a short run that it was too much for them to overcome. Attendance, 1,630. Score: Cincinnati 9, Brooklyn 5.

CHICAGO-PITTSBURG.

CHICAGO, July 8.—It was a cold, raw day with chilly winds and the ball players did not warm up to their work to any extent, and the 1500 cranks shivering in the grandstand did not enthuse much over the very tame game played between the Phillies and the Colts. The Phillies held the Colts safe up to the ninth inning when they made some costly errors and lost. Score: Chicago 6, Philadelphia 7.

PITTSBURG-NEW YORK.

PITTSBURG, Pa., July 8.—The Giants and Pittsburgs played a close game for six innings to-day but after that the visitors broke away and won easily. Baldwin's curves were hit hard and despite the sharp fielding of the home team the New York club landed a number of his safely and made them count. Thomas, Conner and Whistler led in the batting, Whistler also played a great fielding game at short. Glasscock came up from Wheeling to-day but went right back. He went he able to play for a week to come. Mickey Welch did not pitch a very strong game, being hit freely at times, but the brilliant fielding of the Giants held the runs down. Attendance, 1,900. Score: Pittsburg, 6; New York, 11.

CLEVELAND-BOSTON.

CLEVELAND, O., July 8.—The home club kept the visiting fielders busy to-day. They hit Clachan hard at times, but they was always a Boston Easter under the ball when it landed. Lowe's fielding was successful in hitting safely and added by an error, won the game. Captain Tebeau relieved McAleer in center in the third inning on account of an injury to the latter's finger. Jerry Denny went to third. Attendance 1171. Score: Cleveland 1, Boston 4.

American Association.

At Baltimore—Boston, 7; St. Louis, 8.

At Philadelphia—The Athletics Cincinnati game postponed, rain.

At Baltimore—Louisville game postponed, rain.

At Washington—Columbus game postponed, rain.

PROFESSIONAL BALL PLAYERS.

BALTIMORE, July 8.—The Sun says the American Association managers are laying big plans. They say positively that arrangements have been made to place a club in Brooklyn upon short notice if any of the present eight cities withdraw. It is announced that six wealthy men of Brooklyn have agreed to back the new project with money at the outset. There is also a general acquiescence in the design of forming separate national leagues. It is said Baltimore, Washington, Philadelphia and Boston in the association and the Boston league club favor the plan. The intention of those who advocate the division is to work for a reorganization of the entire system of professional ball association as a consequence is effected with the present bogus circuit, according to the present boys, is to consist of two clubs in Boston, two in Philadelphia and one each in Baltimore, Washington, New York and Brooklyn. The western circuit is to be made up of Chicago, Pittsburg, Cleveland, Cincinnati, St. Louis, Louisville, Milwaukee and Kansas City, with possibly one or two changes. Thousands of dollars have been lost owing to the large outlay necessary for traveling expenses, and it is believed that the drain can be stopped by shortening the jumps.

WEATHER OF THE GRIP.

MONTREAL, July 8.—The grip epidemic is having terrible effects in the Labrador. At River Pelletant, Point Bergmann, Hebron Cove and Nelson, dozens of people have died, and we are dying and many have gone to the woods, and to make matters still more [illegible] Bishop Fe is prostrate. Nearly all of his people are dead, and a number of them are among the [illegible].

A Destructive Fire

CINCINNATI, July 8.—Shortly after 10 o'clock tonight fire broke out in the great building occupied by A. B. Burkhardt & Co., manufacturers and wholesale dealers in fancy goods. The building was valued at $200,000 and added $50,000 more in the last two years. Mr. Burkhardt says the value of the stock was to the best of his belief between $300,000 and $700,000. In addition to his own immense stock he stores great quantities of valuable furs for citizens every summer and these furs are all in the burning building. He knows nothing about his insurance at the present moment, but it is his habit to insure well. Mr. Goodman, the owner of the building is also a good insurer.

The entire fire department was soon called out but nothing could save the building and it soon became an irretrievable loss.

The fire department devoted their efforts to preventing the spread of the fire to surrounding property, which is still endangered. At 12.30 the west wall of the Goodman building fell on the roof of the Hope Manufacturing Company's building next east of it. The building was a three-story brick. It was an extensive picture-framing establishment and carried a large stock of pictures, paintings, engravings and mouldings. The front three quarters of the building, where the most valuable goods are kept, was completely ruined. A mass of debris crashed into the cellar, the other walls were thrown into the street. It may take fire.

As it is the Hope company's loss can be hardly less than $100,000, while the loss to the building is probably $80,000 as it was very old. This will swell the loss to nearly a million and a quarter.

The high west gables of the Hooper building overtopping the Hope company's building which it crushed, struck the five story Steinway Piano building which was next east of the Hope's and knocked the west wall of that building in. No other injury was visible from Fourth street, and it is hoped the direct damage to Steinway's will be light. They carry about $100,000 worth of stock. There loss to stock will not be over $10,000, if so much.

At 1 a. m. the fire seems entirely under control. Engines will have to work on it all day to-morrow. Thus far no one has been hurt, though narrow escapes have been numerous.

The fire originated in the basement of Burkhardt's store about 9.30 p. m. Before the firemen could break through the iron grating and get a stream of water on the blaze, smoke was seen to issue through a window on the third floor. The front doors on Fourth street were broken open and a current of air let in and a moment later the flames shot through the elevator shaft to the top of the building. The store being stocked with furs, hats, etc., and other inflammable material, the flames spread rapidly and by 11 o'clock the building was gutted. The loss on building and stock is estimated at $600,000. The eastern part of the building was occupied by Henry Grandjean & Co. wholesale clothiers. The loss to this firm will probably reach $400,000. Insurance not known.

Military Academy Report.

WASHINGTON, July 8.—The report of the board of visitors to the United States military academy has been submitted to the secretary of the navy. The board in its report recommends that the age of admission be fixed at 15 to 18, instead of 15 to 20, according to existing laws. The officers in charge of the academy, the report says, are able and deserve the highest commendation; but the odious, brutalizing and unAmerican habit of hazing has not as yet entirely disappeared from the academy. The efforts that have been made for its extermination, it is gratifying to say, have been largely successful, but there yet lingers among the cadets a degree of class feeling that is exceedingly delicate.

The Elliott Trial.

COLUMBUS, O., July 8.—The capacity of the court room was taxed to its full limit by men and women as Patsy Elliott was put on the stand to-day. He corroborated all of the damaging evidence against his brother and swore that Osborn fired the first shot. When Osborn fired at the witness he ran into the street. Feeling a bullet shake him he thought he was dangerously wounded and claims that he ran to the bar room for refuge. Meeting Osborn a fight ensued, in which his revolver was discharged, killing him. He denied that Osborn was retreating from him at the time.

An Orphans' Suicide.

NEW YORK, July 8.—A novel method of shuffling off this mortal coil developed in this city at 8.30 this morning, when an unknown man, about 28 years of age, committed suicide by plunging head foremost into a sewer through a manhole at Twenty-sixth street and Third avenue. Search was made for the body, but it was not found, having probably been washed to sea and the river. The search will be resumed to-morrow.

The McCarthyites Won the Carlow Election

A FAVORITE DISTRICT LOST

Parnell Said If He Lost Here He Would Die—Nothing to Fall Back on in His Political Life—A Most Crushing Defeat

DUBLIN, July 8.—The result of the election held yesterday for a successor in parliament to the late Roman Mahony, who died a few days ago, was declared at Carlow this afternoon to be as follows:

Hammond (McCarthyite) [illegible]
Kettle (Parnellite) [illegible]
Majority [illegible]

Mr. Kettle [illegible] 236

Carlow is the smallest county in Ireland and contains a population of about 45,000 people and an electorate of about 3000. Mr. Andrew Kettle the defeated Parnellite candidate was a farmer of Dublin county who has already been twice defeated at the polls. Mr. Hammond the victorious McCarthyite candidate is a popular merchant of Carlow, also for two years past he has held the position of chairman of the town councilors.

Speaking at Carlow after the result of the election was made known Mr. Parnell said that he was not disheartened and that he would continue to consolidate the independent nationalism of every Irish county and city and put the issue home upon the country at every election.

Glen Park Chautauqua.

PARKER LAKE, Colo., July 8.—The fifth annual session of the Rocky Mountain Chautauqua assembly opened at 2.30 this afternoon in Glen Park, one-half mile from here, under very favorable auspices.

The officers are Hon. B. H. Gilmore, Denver president, Rev. A. A. Cameron, superintendent of the department of instruction, F. A. Williams, vice-president, H. B. Chamberlin, secretary, A. W. Chamberlin, treasurer, Dr. James Cochran, park ranger in charge, Granville Malcom, business director, Prof. C. M. Carter, superintendent of the art department.

The exercises opened with the reciting by Stanley Wood of an original poem, adapted for the occasion, after which the Rev. A. A. Cameron was the orator of the day.

This assembly is expected to be the most successful and popular meeting ever held in the history of the society. The leading educators of the day from all over the world have been engaged and are here to take charge of the various departments in art, science and literature. The feature of the evening entertainments will be the musical programme, under the control of the St. Cecilia quartette of Denver. Quite a number of the members have been here for some days and many arrived to-day with each train.

[illegible] Gard says he will leave the state today. The officers of the state offer to pay $500 and pay for sailing without clearance papers, and it is reported here that orders have been received from Washington to accept it and discharge Officers Monson and Tejada.

The United States district attorney is now investigating cases upon three charges. First, clearing without proper papers; second, kidnapping a deputy United States marshal; third, violating the neutrality law. He will take possession of the boats immediately upon her release by the custom officers. He says the action is against the vessel, not against the men. Monson and Tejada went to Los Angeles yesterday to consult with their attorney.

THE OCEAN MAIL.

WASHINGTON, July 8.—The secretary of the treasury has authorized the acceptance of the offer of the master of the Chilian steamer Iquique to pay $200 for violation of our navigation laws in having cleared from San Diego, Cal., without the necessary permit. This is the full legal penalty for such an offense, but its settlement has no bearing on the other charges against the officers of the vessel to wit: Kidnapping a federal officer and violating the neutrality laws. As to the first of these charges, kidnapping the marshal, it is not believed here that it will be an against an inanimate object such as a vessel, although evidence on that point might still have a cent-to-value to support of the third charge, violation of the neutrality laws.

It is understood here, however, that the actions so far tried in the case of the Robert and Minch, and that prepared against the Iquique, are only to the [illegible] the attorney general is without official information of the trial, but accepting the published reports as basis, it is believed that serious may still be brought against the individual officers of the two vessels. So far, although the officers of the Iquique have compromised their offense against the navigation laws, they may still be amenable to legal prosecution on the charge of kidnapping and also of violating the neutrality laws.

A Bridge Burned.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., July 8.—The river has risen 4.45 inches during the past twenty-four hours. The river is a little below the flood line and no damage has been done. It is believed the river will fall during the next twenty-four hours.

A floating log struck the pontoon bridge at Leavenworth last night and carried away about twenty feet of that structure. At Atchison a large section of the government dyke has been carried away by the river, depriving East Atchison of protection from the flood waters of the river. No further damage, however, has been done there.

An Empty Treasury.

DENVER, July 8.—Deputy state-treasurer Wilson to-day announced that there was no more money in the state treasury with which to pay salary warrants and unless the revenue from fees, etc., should be great enough to provide the necessary funds there will be no more money for state officers' salaries until the income from taxes comes in in September. There is no little comment here over the condition of the state's finances.

A Plague of Squirrels.

TACOMA, Wash., July 8.—Washington's crop is in danger of partial destruction by gophers and squirrels. For several days wheat buyers have been receiving advices that for five or six days these animals have been appearing in large numbers in the Big Bend and Palouse districts. In some instances not less than 10 per cent. of large fields of grain has already been devastated. Arrests is being spread over the fields mixed with grain, and is killing large numbers of the rodents. If the devastation continues it is estimated that not less than 17,000,000 bushels of grain will be destroyed.

Quarreling Politicians.

ST. PAUL, Minn., July 8.—The state executive committee of the Farmers' Alliance and Knights of Labor met in this city, and held a conference for the purpose of organizing the new People's party in Minnesota. It was held.

B. W. STORER,
Manager of the Gazette.

The Minnesota People's party is not very old, but it has quickly fallen in to the ways of politicians. They quarrel like old hands.

It is not to be expected that even the result of the Carlow election will be sufficient to cause Mr. Parnell to withdraw from public life. Although he may have declared beforehand that the loss of this district would leave him nothing to fall back upon, it will doubtless seem somewhat different to him after the defeat of his candidate than before. Mr. Parnell has already shown more than once the abundant possession of a quality which may be called either obstinacy or perseverance, and so long as he can he will remain in parliament, so long as he lives, he will aspire to be a leader.

It is reported that Count Von Bismarck is angry at certain statements made by the Count Von Munster. The latter has said that the late emperor was as anxious to rid himself of Bismarck's officious services as the present emperor, but was not so fortunate in doing so. Also that the advancement of Bismarck's own son was gross nepotism. So now Bismarck says that Munster must take it back, or meet him on the field of "honor." Americans who are used to political campaigns where stories like the above would hardly gain attention, will feel a mild surprise at the importance given to such an affair, and wonder whether if Bismarck kills Munster or Munster kills Bismarck, it will make any difference at all in regard to the truth of the matter.

THE PRESIDENT AND THE PUBLIC FORESTS.

We present herewith an article from Garden and Forest, which will commend itself both for its facts and opinions to those who appreciate the importance of the preservation of the forest lands of this country and especially of our own state. We may say in addition to the excellent suggestions made in this article, that so far as Colorado is concerned, there are probably no lands suitable for timber, ties and mining timbers which will not be needed for use by its people. The work of preservation of the water sheds from denudation should include not only the forest lands but the wilderness which are covered with shrubs and grass. The time will come too when it will be a question whether the state should not offer encouragement to forest culture, or even engage in it itself. The article mentioned is as follows:

"We have more than once alluded to a section in the act repealing the timber-culture laws, which was approved on the last day of the last session of congress, and which authorizes the president of the United States, from time to time, to set apart public lands, in whole or in part covered with timber or undergrowth as "public reservations." And the president shall by public proclamation declare the establishment of such reservations and the limits thereof." This section has been interpreted as having a more than permissive force. Commissioner Carter, of the general land office, has issued a circular to his agents, in which it is held that, for the purposes of carrying into effect the provisions of the act, it is imperative to reserve all public lands which bear forests or which are covered with timber or undergrowth, only that the timber is not absolutely required for the legitimate use and occupation of the settlers of the localities or state in which these lands are situated, or for the promotion of settlement or for the development of the mineral resources of the region in the immediate vicinity of the forest lands in question.

The circular goes on to instruct the agents that it is of the first importance to reserve all public lands in mountainous and other regions which are covered with timber or undergrowth, if the head waters of rivers and along the banks of streams, where such forests are the natural agents for absorbing and holding vapors, tempering and distributing the rainfall, making for the springs and the floods which follow. Special agents are directed to make a personal examination of such forest lands, and to acquaint themselves in every possible way with the facts as to the value of these lands for all purposes, and such investigations are to be reported to the land office. Furthermore, they are to submit a report, with a recommendation in each case, as to whether the lands examined should be set apart, as a reservation, together with the reasons for the recommendation. This recommendation and the reasons therefor, with the full description of the lands under investigation, are to be published in the land offices and in the newspapers of the vicinity, and it must be stated that the object of such publication is to give timely notice of the proposed reservation, so that all persons who have any interest, either in favor of or in opposition to its establishment, may have an opportunity to petition or remonstrate. This must be done in time to have these views considered before final action is taken in regard to the establishment of a reservation. Whenever there seems to be any imminent danger to the timber of any particular tract which has been considered as a proper one for reservation, the agent is to report this danger at once and state his reasons for believing that there is necessity for immediate action.

All this is done in order to lay before the president such information as will enable him to take intelligent action thereon. Of course, there are other means of acquiring information than which the president can make use of, and it is altogether proper that any one who has any special knowledge in this direction shall place it at his service. The American Forestry Association, we are glad to see, is taking steps to examine certain forest areas in order to ascertain whether they should be withheld from settlement. There is very little doubt that the chief executive of the nation will include too large a fraction of the public domain in these reservations; and other lands which are more valuable for agriculture than for their forests should be opened to settlers. And it would be very easy after such a step to retrace it. Indeed, we have seen that all forest lands should be withheld from entry until the data which special agents of the land office are now instructed to collect could be ascertained by a commission of competent men. The present action, which is much better than no action at all, is in the nature of a protection to these threatened lands, and we sincerely hope even after the president has made his proclamation to set them apart? So far as we are aware, no legal provision is made for guarding these against depredation or destroying fire. If the laws of our nation, U. S. Marshals, army are the proper forces to guarding the forests on the national domain, and we have urged that if our forest lands withdrawn from entry should be placed under the charge of the army. This has been done to some extent in the case of the Yellowstone park, Yosemite and the Sequoia reservations of California. It is practicable to place such reservations as are declared by the president under this same guardianship, we shall feel that something has been done for our forests which promises to have practical value, and the brief section which was attached to an act relating to quite another matter may prove an important piece of legislation in the history of the forests of the nation."

Timely Warning.

To the Editor of THE GAZETTE.

SIR: I am sure you will pardon the liberty I take in sending you this letter when I assure you that it is not written with a feeling of hostility or fault finding, but with the earnest wish that the impressions of a stranger in your midst may make your town officials see their city as others see it. Your citizens who are liberally subscribing thousands of dollars to advertise the advantages of Colorado Springs have asked for opinions upon this subject.

Possibly long before many of these gentlemen had ever even heard of this place its advantages had been forcibly brought to my notice and the interest once excited has always been maintained. Little then did I think, as I studied the combination of altitude, soil, situation and climate, which makes this probably the most perfect health resort for pulmonary troubles in the world, that I should be called upon to warn its citizens against an apathy which is ruining the prospects of their city, and giving it a reputation for unhealthfulness, that all its marvellous natural advantages can never counteract. The best advertisement this city can have will be to let it speak for itself. Accuse yourselves to the fact that all the money spent in advertisements, pictorial and otherwise, unless you can substantiate the praise they give, is valueless. I have enumerated the wonderful gifts the Almighty has given you—a concentration of advantages upon this chosen spot which of themselves would make it life-giving and world renowned, and what has been done with them? have they been nursed and cherished? Far from it, I regret to say. Your pure water, no better could be found on the globe, coming from the melting snows of Pike's Peak, has been allowed to be so contaminated by refuse as to be pronounced dangerous by your eminent physicians and has to be boiled! Your gravel soil, so dry and healthful, has been polluted by cesspools and the result is that the use of the stranger made much more generally than it should the sign "diphtheria" upon the cottage doors is a probable sequence. You have an excellent sewerage system, but you fail to see the connection with it, and you do not oblige your citizens to use it. Is it a wonder then that so few take advantage of it?

Could a drier street be imagined than Tejon in the vicinity of Pike's Peak avenue? Do you know that no air is half a mile from town is pure and absolutely free from any suggestion of air contamination, when that on Tejon street has a profusion of variety in it. The expectoration of consumptives invariably with the bacillus of tuberculosis, which is rendered active by being dried and carried in clouds of dust, is not a pleasant thought to one who knows its dangers. Way there cannot that street be thoroughly watered and swept at night? If you cannot afford to pave your city is you certainly can keep it in cheap, but I dare say I have said to you enough to do it in the proper way. Spread some of the money in your treasury, good friends, of the sinews of the state, upon your water supply; feed it purer, clean the streets and so improve the sanitary condition. Clean your city by night thoroughly in the burn of parts, and the advertisement of your city will give it all will amply pay you for the money spent.

When your city is a health resort for healthfulness, you will need no money or method to advertise it. You wish the best class of citizens to make a home in your midst. Your property will rise in value, and your city will become what the Almighty designed it to be.

An Attractive Pamphlet.

Republic and Times:

The Gazette's Sunday supplement is an attractive feature, it proved a "freshing" and had a wide and fine time to be even more popular than it is. The stock is far above the ordinary.

OUT WEST.

The wheat and barley crops of Bent and Otero counties have been damaged to the amount of about $15,000 by rain and hail.

La Junta, Colo., was visited by a severe hail storm last Monday night. The storm swept through the valley doing considerable damage to the crop.

Chicago people eat 800 head of Texas cattle daily. The weekly average of the Chicago cattle market in the winter months, being last winter's figures for the estimate, is 6,000 head.

The fourth of July edition of the Durango Herald is printed in red and blue ink. This is eclipsed, however, by the Buffalo Express of the same date in stripes of red, white and blue.

How to Eat Cucumbers.

Cucumbers should never be eaten without vinegar and pepper. Otherwise the large quantity of apody that contained in them would make indigestion and fermentation. Oil and salt should not be used. They render cucumbers unwholesome. But here is an excellent way to eat them: Peel, then cut into slices lengthways; sprinkle both sides with corn meal, pepper and salt, and fry them brown. Cucumbers treated in this way make a delicious dish.

How to Use Coal.

Many a housekeeper complains that the coal supplied to her cellar is of different qualities. This happens very simply. When the coal is poured into the cellar the larger and heavier lumps roll to the sides and bottom, whereas the smaller kind stops in the center. If the coal is mixed after delivery an even size and quality will be insured.

How Waste Are Calmed by Oil.

Owing to its inferior specific gravity oil forms a floating film, which defends the surface of the water from contact with the currents of air, and the friction between the winds and the waves is greatly diminished, in the same manner that the friction between solids is by application of oils.

How to Strengthen the Eyes.

A simple and excellent plan to preserve and strengthen the eyes is this: Every morning pour some cold water into your washing bowl; at the bottom of the bowl place a silver coin or other bright object; then put your face into the water with the eyes open and fixed on the object at the bottom; move your head from side to side gently, and you will find that this morning bath will make your eyes brighter and stronger and preserve them beyond the ordinary allotted time.

How to Preserve Milk and Cream.

Put the milk or cream into bottles and place them in a saucepan with cold water, which is gradually to the boiling point. Then take from the fire and cork instantly. Again raise the milk to a boiling point for half a minute, and let the bottles cool in the water in which they were boiled. Milk thus treated will remain perfectly good for six months.

How to Make Hens Lay in Winter.

Mix a potion of minced meat every day with their other food, and see that they have plenty of gravel, old plastering or powdered egg shells to pick among. The latter may also be mixed with their food.

FREDERICK'S NEW STORY

"WHERE AVON INTO SEVERN FLOWS" ITS TITLE.

A Sparkling Article about the Career of a Writer Who Began Life as a Reporter and Who Gives a All the Sounds of the Man Power Twister.

(Special Correspondence.)

NEW YORK, June 29.—Mr. Harold Frederick writes to his friends here that he has completed a story which is to be called "Where Avon Into Severn Flows." The story is to appear in the new illustrated English magazine Black and White, and it will be very handsomely illustrated. It will probably appear simultaneously in this country, and would have been published ere this but for certain business delays which are the thorny side of an author's life. The story is shorter than those Mr. Frederick has been accustomed to write, and will be published in two installments. It is a story of Warwickshire life, and it will be interesting to see how Mr. Frederick's pen deals in the way of fiction with English life.

HAROLD FREDERICK.

Mr. Frederick is now completing another story of Irish life, which will be quite long, and which is to be published serially in America and by one magazine exclusively. The author has been giving much of his time for the past year to the composition of this tale, and he is inclined to think that so far as humor, pathos, a stirring story and an interesting narrative are concerned, it is the best of his works of fiction. If it proves to be so, it will be a remarkably fine achievement, for Mr. Frederick's power as a story teller, his sense of humor and his associate pathos, and his ingenuity as a deviser of plots have already won for him no little fame.

Not a few persons are of opinion that Mr. Frederick is quite likely, when he reaches the maturity of his powers, to write a novel which will rank him among the greatest of American story tellers. His career has been singularly fortunate, but its successes have been due entirely to his own talents and to his industry and good judgment in the application of them to his work. He is about forty years of age, and he has had the best of training for the writing of romantic literature, because he has been since his maturity an active newspaper writer. He is an Utica lad, and was educated at the college which, by reason of its vicinity to that city, has been the alma mater of so many of the sons of Utica who have since become distinguished. After his graduation Mr. Frederick discovered a gifted newspaper ability. He was a graphic writer and an humorous one, and he therefore did with great credit what is after all the most important part of newspaper work that which the reporter does. He became the leading editorial writer of the Utica Observer, and his connection with that journal left an impress upon it which counted it to be noticed not only in its own community, but in other newspaper offices.

Afterward Mr. Frederick became the editor of the Albany Journal, but served in that capacity for a comparatively brief time. Even then his inclination toward pure literature was manifesting itself, and he permitted it to have such sway with him as his editorial responsibilities allowed. His work was no solid and yet so brilliant that it attracted the attention of the editor of the New York Times, and as a result Mr. Frederick was offered the post of London correspondent of that journal. He accepted the offer and some years ago went to London, where his journalistic work has brought him into high repute and has been a feature of his home newspaper.

His personal qualities and his cultivation brought him into pleasant and in some intimate relations with men of all ranks in Great Britain. The post he now occupies is one which, while exacting, yet affords him opportunity for purely literary work. His first long novel, which was entitled "Seth's Brother's Wife," was published in one of the American magazines serially. It was received with favor. The critics praised it, more perhaps for the promise which they found in it than for anything else, but it was an achievement sufficient to give him a good footing among story writers of a high class.

This was followed by a second novel, entitled "The Lawton Girl," which was also published serially. Opinions differed about this book. Some critics regarded it as better than the first novel, while others did not look so favorably upon it, but it was a meritorious production whatever its comparative merits may be. A third story was entitled "In the Valley."

Mr. Frederick is also understood to be engaged upon a work of biography in which he will tell the story of the life of the young emperor of Germany. This is an effort requiring patience, a capacity for analysis and a clear understanding of the elements which have made the German empire and the character of the men who had part in consolidating this colossal nation. For some time Mr. Frederick has made his headquarters at the Savage club in London, which is the resort of the most famous writers, dramatists, the best actors and in fact of professional men generally. He has recently, however, taken a cottage in one of the delightful suburbs of London, where he can have more privacy, and there his literary labors will be continued for the present.

MASONIC.

A Famous Bell. Burial of a Chinese Mason—Notes.

During the services of Evangelist lodge, No. 600, of New York, recently, R. W. Bro. John F. Baldwin, the father of the lodge, exhibited the gavel used in the laying of the corner stone of the home and school at Utica. It is the property of the Masonic Veterans, and was held by him for two years as presiding officer. The gavel was made from the quarter deck of the Lawrence, a war vessel constructed in 1813 and employed as flag ship by Commodore Perry until sunk by the British in the battle of Lake Erie, which battle was, however, finally won by the Americans. When the work was subsequently raised the gavel was made, and has since been used by many grand masters in laying corner stones on various occasions. R. W. Bro. Baldwin's patriotic address of explanation was accepted with unanimous applause.

The body of Yo Yung Hing, a Chinese Mason of high degree, was buried at Baltimore not long ago according to the special funeral ritual of his people. Fifty envelopes containing mourning friends followed the hearse. The procession was led by a band, and a dozen native Chinese musicians played dirges. A horse, saddled and bridled, but riderless, was in the procession. Slips of blue paper were scattered along the way as an offering of some sort to the dead. Two hundred Chinese Masons took part in the services. Fowls, bread, rice, tobacco and other things, including Hing's personal effects, were thrown into the grave before it was closed.

There is a project of a new Masonic temple at Winnipeg, Manitoba, and also of one at Ottawa.

At the 110th annual communication of the grand lodge of Free and Accepted Masons of the state of New York Grand Master John W. Vrooman presided. There were present delegates from over 700 of the 721 active lodges of the state, representing about 77,000 Master Masons in good standing.

Edward Smith, born a Mason twenty-one years. The Masonic Veterans of the state of New York made him a member a week or two ago. Jerome Buck was elected grand treasurer in place of Mr. Booth resigned. Mr. Booth belongs to New York lodge, No. 330, which is composed largely of actors. Nat C. Goodwin is another member. He doesn't bother with paying dues quarterly. He shows up once a year to settle his bill.

A Masonic apron more than fifty years by the late Isaac Phillips, past grand master of New York state, has been presented to Albion lodge, No. 96, by N. T. Phillips, a son of the deceased, who is a member of that lodge. The apron is a quaint article and entirely different from any now worn. It will be placed among the antiquities.

Proceedings of the Sovereign Grand Lodge Brief Items.

The proceedings of the sixty-sixth annual communication of the sovereign grand lodge, Independent Order of Odd Fellows, have recently been issued, covering over 500 pages. Since 1830 there have been 1,635,381 initiations in subordinate lodges, 1,400,331 members and 183,001 wid owed families relieved, 143,504 members deceased. The total amount expended in relief was $51,358,901.21, and the total receipts $134,657,000.93. At the last report there were 634,335 members of the order in submission to the sovereign grand lodge.

A curiosity in the shape of three rusted links of a chain, in the middle of one of which are attached two oysters, was found in Long Island sound the other day. It is believed by experts that the chain must have been under water at least twenty five years. The center link to which the oysters are attached signifies in the ritual of the order Love, and it is certainly a strange coincidence that to this one both bivalves should attach themselves. The finder thinks that Father Neptune is an Odd Fellow and has a lodge established under the waters of the sound. The relic has been presented to the grand lodge of the state of New York.

Thomas H. Dodge, donor of the site for the Odd Fellows' home in Worcester, has conceived the idea of a special feature for the library at that institution when completed. He proposes to have uniform blank books prepared and sent to every lodge in the state for the autographs of the members, the whole, when returned, to be bound in as many volumes as may be necessary, and deposited in the library. There are about 40,000 members in the state, and it is estimated that the names of at least three-fourths of the whole number may be thus obtained.

The Chicago Odd Fellow says: Allen C. Lewis, whose bequest of a fund of $1,000,000 for the establishment of a free polytechnic institute in that city, was a member of Excelsior lodge, and during his life was a very active member of the order. He remembered Excelsior lodge also in his will.

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS.

Encouraging Progress of the Uniformed Rank Castle Gossip.

The order enters the twenty-eighth year of its existence with a splendid army of more than 300,000 brave men and true marching steadily forward under the bicolored banner of Pythian knighthood. One year ago 303,000 names were enrolled upon the rosters of membership throughout the supreme jurisdiction. Within the past twelve months this number has been increased to 308,000, making an increase during the year of 45,000. The development of the uniform rank is a marvel, and the record shows an increase of 153 new divisions during the past year, with a total membership exceeding 30,000, being an increase during the year of 6,000 members, or over one-fifth. Taking into consideration the reaction usual to the year following a supreme lodge session, the fact that the record of the past year has eclipsed that of any previous year's work since the establishment of the uniform rank speaks volumes for the enthusiasm and energy displayed by officers and sir knights, and for the military methods employed and the systematic and persistent efforts which are being made by them to plant the banner of the uniform rank in every part of the supreme jurisdiction.

The Ohio grand temple of Pythian sisters convened in Cincinnati recently. This order is not quite three years old in the state, but it has twenty-five temples, with a membership of 800 sisters and 300 knights. The supreme temple has temples in twenty-five states, and a membership of 8,000. There are seven grand temples and one supreme temple. The order was reorganized by the supreme lodge of the world, Knights of Pythias, and the ritual approved in 1888. Such are the figures given in the annual report.

The grand lodge, Knights of Pythias, of Indiana, in session at Indianapolis, had a very interesting meeting. Dr. William Heikkel, of Indianapolis, was elected supreme representative. The grand lodge took $10,000 worth of stock in the Pythian Castle association in Indianapolis, and will manage a grand lodge hall in the building and make that city its permanent headquarters. The grand lodge also legislated against saloon men, and forbid the working of the "Orient" in all castle halls in the state.

The grand lodge officers report for the past year show a large increase in the order in Louisiana.

A. O. U. W.

A Remarkable Case Recently Occurring in Western Notes.

A rather remarkable case occurred recently in Montana, where one of the oldest subordinates asked the grand master for a dispensation to confer the workman degree on a junior who was about to die. Grand Master Kinsley made a lengthy reply to the extraordinary request, concluding as follows:

"I have no more right to grant a dispensation, and the lodge has no more right to go to the bedside of one about to die and confer the workman degree upon him, and so violate the spirit of our laws regarding the physical qualifications for membership, than I would have as grand master workman to grant a dispensation to the lodge as a lodge to confer degrees within the walls of the penitentiary on a convicted felon. The only difference between the two would be that one would be violating our laws respecting the physical qualifications and the other moral qualifications."

This order had but six deaths in the month of May in a membership of nearly 23,000, and June 1 it had sufficient money in its treasury to pay all death losses and a goodly sum over. The assessment for June might have been passed had it been thought good policy to pass it.

Massachusetts at present occupies the third place in the list of jurisdictions; Missouri is second in rank, but is less than 1,100 members ahead of it.

The Illinois grand recorder's report shows 1,822 initiated during the year, and an aggregate membership of 30,231. There are now about 265,000 members of the order in the United States and Canada. The grand receiver paid 212 warrants for death benefits during the year, amounting to $417,000.

A QUARTER OF A CENTURY AGO

A citizen of Douglas county, Oregon, near what is now Roseburg City, a man who has since become well known throughout the state, suffered with the kidney complaint. This man was no other than Mr. John Stewart, one of the most influential and most influential citizens in the county. In a recent letter he says: "I had been suffering from pains in my back and general kidney complaint for some time, and had used many remedies without any but temporary relief. The pains in my back had become so severe that I was prevented from attending to my work, and could not move about without the use of a cane. Hearing, through a friend, of the wonderful cures effected by Oregon Kidney Tea, I was induced to try a box, and from that very first dose I found instant relief, and before using half the contents of the box the pains in my back entirely disappeared. I have every faith in the virtues of the Oregon Kidney Tea, and can conscientiously recommend it to my friends. I would not be without it for anything."

Oregon Kidney Tea cures backache, incontinence of urine, brick dust sediment, burning or painful secretion while urinating, and all affections of the kidneys or urinary organs of either sex.

Arrested for Horse Stealing

Charles Steffen, arrested for horse stealing, was given his preliminary hearing in Justice Farrar's court yesterday afternoon

Some time ago Mr J L Armit purchased a black carriage horse for Mrs Armit to drive Later on it was decided that the horse was too unsafe for the purpose and it was turned out to pasture on the Brookside ranch. It was stolen from that place on about the first of April

A few days ago Mrs. Armit discovered the horse in the possession of W K Moore, from whom it was learned that he had bought the horse of Steffen This led to Steffen's arrest In yesterday's hearing the prosecution only was heard, and a fairly strong case was presented against the prisoner This afternoon at 4 o'clock the defense will have an opportunity to argue the case The only standing ground left for Steffen is that in regard to the identity of the horse which he claims to have raised The prisoner's bonds were fixed at $500

County School Matters

Superintendent Berrey has announced himself a candidate for re election. The superintendent's office is now worth $2,40 per year and the superintendent and his friends are convinced that he should have another term when there is something more in it than a living

The county teachers library has had an addition of some forty volumes made to it. All are professional books and the library is one of the best owned by any county association in the state

Superintendent Berrey is sending out blanks for the secretaries of the various school districts in the county to make their annual reports. The county treasurer is also sending out statements of the school funds.

The Normal school district, composed of the counties of El Paso, Douglas and Elbert, will hold an institute in this city this summer It begins August 10 and lasts two weeks. About 120 teachers are expected to be present, and Mr Berrey is preparing a circular to be sent out giving the details of the arrangements. State superintendent Coy urges all teachers to attend the summer institutes.

The attention of the readers is called to the report of the county superintendent to the board of commissioners printed in another column of this paper, regarding the apportionment of the general school fund. It has been customary for the papers to print the report as reading matter but this year the law requires that it be printed officially. The superintendent also calls attention to an important change in the school laws.

A Husband's Trouble

There has been great trouble recently between Thomas S. Wilson formerly a well known resident of this city, and his wife, Mildred Wilson, both of whom now reside in Denver.

Mr and Mrs. Wilson have not lived together for over a year, having been separated by mutual consent. Of late Mr. Wilson has been greatly troubled with feelings of jealousy, and he has made numerous propositions to his wife that they both take poison, and transfer their troubles to another world. Once or twice the desperate man has offered laudanum to his wife, and upon her refusal to accept it he threatened her with a revolver in hand.

Last Monday a warrant was sworn out for the arrest of Wilson, and before a Denver justice was charged with assault and placed under $300 bonds. The man again returned to his wife and it is claimed brought forth laudanum for two. He was again taken into custody and Secretary of State Paton became his bondsman, Secretary Eaton having known Wilson when the latter was a resident of this city. A petition for a divorce was filed by Mrs. Wilson's attorney, T C. Early, yesterday

Mrs. Wilson is gay and dashing in appearance and is very anxious to have the details of her domestic troubles put in the Denver papers at length, and has given particular instructions to Denver reporters that they describe her personal appearance correctly.

A Colorado Story.

Our genial citizen, Mr. John G. Shields, has recently been in the windy city and has evidently given the newspaper reporters a sample of Colorado wind It gets to be such a habit with Colorado people to say tender-feet that they keep it up even after getting back east The following is from a Chicago paper

John G Shields of Colorado Springs was at the Richelieu yesterday 'I saw a funny thing out at our place just before I left home he said 'A little colored Baptist minister was baptizing a number of converts in the church. A tank had been built in the church and the work of construction had been too fast to warrant its security. The little minister stood a great, big colored woman by the waist and she jumped heavily into the tank There was a crash, a yell, and the old lady went feet first through the bottom She did not seem to realize the situation and frantically yelled out to the little minister who was attempting to release her. 'For God's sake, the devil sin does get me by the large. Pray fob me, Brother, pray fob me'

Several stalwart members of the congregation released her and the baptism of the large converts was postponed until the tank could be repaired."

MANITOU SPRINGS.

Items of Interest Gathered in the Great Resort.

Judge Collins of the supreme court of Nebraska, is at the Mansions.

F F Palagrove, proprietor of the Hotel Windsor House is registered at the Cliff,

A E Gipson, who with his family are at the Iron Springs hotel, was one of the first settlers of Greeley, Colo.

The Barker house has secured the services of Mr F A Pife, formerly of the Windsor at Denver. His training in the hotel business extends back to 1873.

S A Zimmerman representing the Germania of Milwaukee, is at the Sun Cycle house preparing an article on Manitou for that large German publication

Mr James S. Wynkoop, of Mexico City, and Mr Wynkoop, of Colorado Springs, piloted some friends on a visit to the many places of interest about town to-day

The Pike's Peak carriage lines have their handsome four-in-hands at each hotel door at 7 30 a. m. Parties can go up to the summit by the carriage road and return by the cog railway. W. W. Bryan has charge.

Mrs. Libbie Miller, a guest at the Barker house, found the locket she lost tissed for in the "lost" column of The Gazette yesterday, and returned it to the representative of the paper Our columns are always useful in solving the wants of the people

The Rev A K Stablen, pastor of our M E church reports it as growing in attendance The young people are rallying around him and doing good work The quarterly meeting will take place Sunday night when the Rev Dr Merritt of Denver will preach

The cog railway reports telegrams from the summit of Pikes Peak stating that it is clear and sunshiny there On June 29 there was a large body of snow covering it on all sides To day there is but little of it left on the south and west exposures, and that mostly in the gulches and ravines.

The N H Carpenter company who conduct a series of vacation tours from Chicago to all points of interest have just registered at the Cliff house a party of twenty two tourists for the season Their names can be found in our list of hotel arrivals. Mr H F Maydwell of the firm have them in charge

Is there something combustible about Colorado air, or is it in the water plant or mineralized? The newsboy who has fallen off in a friendly scuffle threatens to annihilate the burly hackman if he drives over it The College cadet fairly aches to try conclusions with anything wearing a skull cap and flannel shirt. The more or less easy going effeminate eastern or southern gentleman of sedentary life, suddenly discovers out here that he has brawn as well as brain, has here developed pugnacity, where before he had pluck only, and is just a trifle more than willing to "take his own part," and so it may happen that long residence here could so develop pugnacity in men gifted with other and many estimable qualities, as to blind them to their own best interests, and to the absolute rights that the community in which they live and have helped to build up, have every claim in justice, equity and law to demand of them No man can speak ill of another, whether it be the truth or a lie, without injury to himself We like to see a bout with the gloves in a properly selected place authorized by law and social custom, where men stand off and strike square from the shoulder, but when the arena of that strife is placed on a public highway, over which the intelligent guests and community generally are compelled to travel, it certainly shows the intense virility and stamina quality of our mountain air. Let us consider it from a business standpoint The resources of our town are sunshine, sick Yankees and mineral water. Just suppose, for instance, the sun should refuse to shine, the Yankees refuse to be sick, and the water take umbrage at confinement under slight pressure; just suppose this were possible, in what regard would it differ as a question or as to results, from the private quarrels voiced in panting the public roadways, which intelligent women and men visiting our beautiful city are obliged to "tread as they run," and would fain run as they read

THE DAY'S DOINGS.

A hop will be given at the Alta Vista this evening.

The county commissioners audited a large number of bills yesterday, and in a business fashion dropped the poor house.

The beautiful photographs of Gracie Hopkins, on exhibition in Fairley Bros.' windows, are attracting much attention.

Anna A. Evans started a suit for divorce from William Evans in the county court yesterday, alleging failure to support.

Mr. Edwin S. Giles has taken a position as traveling salesman with the Eureka Commission company, and leaves today on an extended trip.

Mr. George Hall, stenographer connected with the Santa Fe at La Junta, Col., was in the city yesterday. He has been visiting his relatives at Eastonville.

Marriage licenses were issued yesterday to Frank Derington and Cora M. Jaquis, both of Colorado Springs; S. T. Reed of Pueblo, and Miss Cosma Wood, of Julesburg, West Virginia.

Merchants and others desiring the services of responsible young men are invited to apply to the rooms of the Young Men's Christian association where applications are kept on file.

The ladies of the Colorado Springs Tennis club will give a "tea" on Friday afternoon, July 10, at the grounds of the club. All members are cordially invited to attend and bring their friends.

Mr. J. Bischoff returned last Friday from Edina, Mo., where he was called to the bedside of his father, who died before the son arrived. Mr. Bischoff left a brother very sick but convalescent.

G. W. Vallery, general agent, and L. C. Blakeley, traveling agent of the Burlington and Missouri, were in the city yesterday in the interests of their road. They enjoyed a visit at the Casino last evening.

Geo. C. Edens, formerly manager for John Evans of this city, and now occupying the same position in James G. Kirkpatrick's art furniture department of Denver, was in town yesterday on business. He reports an active demand for the firm's goods.

Two men giving their names as Charles Dailey and John Kehl were arrested in the Santa Fe yards for vagrancy yesterday afternoon. When searched it was discovered that both men were the unfortunate possessors of concealed weapons, and they will make be given trial upon that charge.

We received yesterday some of "Howard's Favorite" strawberries from Bussler's ranch, which is owned by Mr. Theodore H. Howe. These are the first berries that have been put on the Colorado Springs market this season. Next year it is expected that there will be enough to supply this entire market.

Mr. Henry H. Smith, for the past twenty years journal clerk of the house of representatives, has been the guest of Dr. C. J. Reynolds for a few days. Mr. Smith is the author of a manual of parliamentary rules and is connected with the Washington Post and Detroit Free Press. He left yesterday for Alaska via Los Vegas, N. M., and Los Angeles, Cal.

Mrs. Fannie Aiken Tucker, Mrs. Sally Hodges, Mrs. Eldredge, Mrs. Whitney, Mr. J. Allan Doubleday and Prof. A. C. Richter have most kindly consented to assist Gracie Hopkins at the entertainment in aid of the Free Kindergarten association at Weber hall this evening. The programme is published elsewhere in this evening's GAZETTE.

An attempted hold-up was reported on Tuesday night in the southern part of the city. A gentleman named Alexander was walking along when a man stepped out in front of him and demanded that he put up his hands. Alexander had a pistol in his hand, and sticking it out toward the robber started toward him with the exclamation, "I'll hold up my hands!" The hold up evidently thought he had met the wrong party and took to his heels.

In yesterday morning's police court John Foster was fined $7 and costs for drunkenness and drinking in the streets. Another unfortunate, who had sought fame in the character of a jockey, was brought before the court on the charge of being a tramp. This man goes by the name of J. Howell, and was left in this city in a very sick condition by Frank Bros.' circus. Mr. Howell was found sleeping in the box cars in the railroad yards, and was transferred to the city jail. Judge Kinsley gave him a fine of $10 and costs not as a punishment, but simply for the purpose of letting him have board and attention.

Following is the programme of the entertainment to be given this evening at Weber hall in aid of the Free Kindergarten association:

Saxton a Candidate.

Captain William Saxton has announced himself a candidate for sheriff at the coming fall election, subject to nomination by the Republican county convention. Captain Saxton is well known as an officer of the law in this county. He came to Colorado Springs in 1874 and has lived here ever since. For four years he served on the police force and for three years was city marshal of Colorado Springs. For three years he has been under sheriff to Mr. Jackson and is at present a constable of this precinct. During the war Captain Saxton was a member of Company F, Twentieth Pennsylvania cavalry and saw a great deal of hard service. He was at the battles of Winchester and Cedar Creek, and was taken prisoner at Five Forks, being released at Appomattox. For the past seven years he has been captain of Troop A, of the Colorado National Guards, and has, at the head of the famous troop, gained a reputation for efficiency and gentlemanly bearing which is not surpassed by any troop of the state, with all to boot, of the late Indian campaigns, in which the troop served with credit to itself and the state. Captain Saxton has been faithful to every trust, ready and competent to do his duty. His record as a soldier, an officer and a citizen is a good one.

Business Failures.

Two business houses of the city went under yesterday. H. T. O'Brien got out an attachment against Wetenkamp Bros., harness dealers of South Tejon street, for the sum of $923.91. There is a mortgage ahead of this attachment, however, held by F. A. Neff. Constable Saxton has charge of the place.

The Halleck Paint, Oil and Glass company issued an attachment against Sabin & Gazin, paper hangers, dealers in paint, oil, etc., in the sum of $2,000. They will be unable to meet the bill, it is said. Under sheriff Brisbin has charge of the place. They give as their reasons an inability to collect bills.

A Painful Accident.

Springfield, Mo., July 8.—R. W. Ryan, elected to succeed Congressman Wade, met with a serious and painful accident last evening. While returning home from his office he tripped on a defective plank in the sidewalk and fell violently to the ground, fracturing his right wrist and right thigh. His physicians say he will be confined for two months.

"History Repeats Itself."

Two years ago trade in almost all lines was stagnated in this city, times were dull and money was scarce. That was a good time to buy real estate, as prices were stationary and in a few cases people were hard up and had to sell at a sacrifice. Everyone who invested at that time made a handsome profit. This time is another good time to invest in real estate, and we have one client who is hard up and offers two fine lots on Washington avenue, West Colorado Springs, at less than cost. Washington avenue will be one of the finest streets in the city, and there are the cheapest lots on it.

On Tejon street, only three blocks from the Spaulding House, we offer 100 by 100 feet, prospective business property, for $4000, on easy terms.

Good lots in Hillside Addition, near Sinton's dairy, at $275 each. Terms $25 cash and $10 per month.

Lots in South Colorado Springs at $125 to $200 each. Terms $10 cash and $5 per month. There is no better way to save money than to buy one of these lots.
